INTERNATIONAL HISTORICAL CONGRESS

The international fight against fascism
From the International Brigades to the "Resistance"

2011 marks the 75th anniversary of the creation of the International Brigades, followed by antifascists of all nationalities engaging in the Resistance in countries which were not their own.

Barcelona, Vía Laietana, 16 Hall of CCOO de Catalunya
27 October to 29 October 2011

The aim of this congress is to contribute to studying the movement of solidarity that led to the creation of the International Brigades, and antifascist Resistance.

For the first time in the history of the world, in 1936, men and women from all continents volunteered to support the legitimately elected Government of a country which was not their own. This Government was left alone against the military coup led by General Franco, backed up by Hitler and Mussolini, which turned out to be the real start of WW2.

The second theme of the congress will be devoted to studying what became of the Brigadiers, the Spanish Republicans and all those, whatever their nationality and wherever they were, who engaged in the internationalist fight against fascism.

The date of the congress corresponds to the decree of the Spanish Republic dated October 22, 1936 creating the IB's. It also coincides with the anniversary of October 28, 1938, when the IB's, brought back from the front, were given a huge farewell ceremony from the people of Barcelona.

The congress will also recall the participation of foreigners, particularly Spanish, in the liberation of France and Europe.

This aspect will focus on the history of the XIV guerrilla corps, created during the Spanish War, and which included an international unit. It was reconstituted in France near Foix (Ariège), and became the origin of the Spanish Resistance in southern France. In the hope (disillusioned) of Franco's destitution as Hitler's ally after WW2, it became Agrupacion de Guerrilleros Españoles.
